Include initial, routine, periodic and restorative processes

Introductory course wood floors maintenance. This course was developed for individuals engaging in floor maintenance. If you are currently a carpet cleaner technician, in the janitorial service industry and want to expand your knowledge and services to include wood floor maintenance, this course is beneficial for you. The WFMT course teaches basic understanding of wood science, wood floor finish types, and proper care and maintenance.

Completion of this course will provide you the academic and hands on training to obtain WFMT certification. This certification will set you apart from competitors within the industry. There are currently wood flooring CCU courses available however; they do not hold the IICRC certification such as this course does.
